QUEER ADVICE.

I am a native of Espiand, and while I was in that country i contracted a terrible blood poisou, and for two years was under treatment as an outdoor patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I sustend the most agonizing pains in my boats, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. I had vertigo and deafnoss, with partial loss of sight, sovere pains in my head and eyes, doc. which nearly ran me crasy. I lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and was treated at Roosevel in this city, as well as by a prominent objection in Now York Patring no. I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial as a last roort. I had given up all hope of being cured, as I had gove through the hands of the best medical men in Nottingham and New York. I look six bottles of S. S. S. and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I year was in my life. L. FRED HALFURD, New York City, June 12, 1885.

An Old Physicians Says Brink Year

Whitskey Straight.

To the Editon: In several of your recent hance, I have observed the articles of a whistey concern in Baltimore, Md., which, while written from an interested motive, contain some very sensible statements, especially their remarks about so-called bitters, cough syraps, cod liver oil, ste. Now, while I do not agree with them in some of their claims, still, as to the three mixtures above mentioned, no truer words could have been apoken. Every day in my practice I come across people whose maladies are traccable direct to these noxious compounds. Take, for instance, the widely advertised "bitters" of to-day. In nine cases out of ten, they consist of 30 per cent. (the amount the government allows) of what is called "commercial alcohol," that is, an alcohol of the vilest and most poisonous grade. The remaining ingredients consist of various foreign substances as flavoring extracts. These decodions are consumed principally by the consumptive, the debilitated, the convalescent and others of weak stomachs. Now while alcohol, especially in the form of whiskey, is the best known atimulant, and is prescribed daily by the profession everywhere, and while whisky in a can't conceive why people will insist upon taking this alcohol in the form of a continuous form of the part of the stomach, and affords more mutriment than any other from, as the articles state, it passes into the blood vessels direct, without digestive effort on the part of the stomach, and affords more mutriment than any other known substance. If the concern in flatimore have discovered a means of discottion or a nostrum, it would be far better if they would take it "straight," as an that form, as the articles state, it passes into the blood vessels direct, without digestive effort on the part of the stomach, and affords more mutriment than any other known substance. If the concern in flatimore have discovered a means of discottion the blood vessels direct, without digestive effort on the part of the stomach An Old Physician Says Drink Your Whiskey Straight.

Well, I'll have to stop that flirtation
And tell Amy all; that is flat.
She would not have uttered negation,
If I had proposed; I know that.
But now I'n to marry acuter,
Our little affair, of course, ends.
I'll say: 'Think of me as a br-ther,
And we will continue good friends."

Of course when she hears of my wedding. There'll be an exhibit of woe; The conjous tears she'll be shedding.
Will bring on hysterics, I know.
And then three'll be sobbling and sighing.
Perhaps till my tender beart melts:
With yows of affection undying.
And yows to wed nobody else.

"Now. Amy, my dear, do not trem."
And heed what I'm going to say.

The Doctor Held for Trial with Bail Fixed at $15,000.

Smit Berbarn, Cal., Independent, March 29.

As reporters were all excluded from the Justice's Court on the occasion of the examination of Dr. Crooks before Justice Hayerly last Saturday, the Independent thought it best to defer the publication of the proceedings until a full report could be obtained from the inside. The following is claimed to be correct. The examina-ithought it best to defer the publication of the proceedings until a full report could be obtained from the inside. The following is claimed to be correct. The examination was held before Justice W. J. Haverly, and the charge against Dr. Crooks. was given as "obtaining property and money under false pretenses":

Court opened at 10 o'clock A. M. Mr. J. Doulton being first sworn in as official stenographer. The room was filling up rapidly when the Judge read a written request of the defendant's attorney that the examination be held in private, which right is given a defendant under Section 808 of the Penal Code.

The prosecuting witness, Mr. H. L. Williams was the first witness placed upon the stand by the District Attorney. His testimony was substantially the same as stated in the complaint sworn to by him and which was published in due time and was briefly as follows: That Dr. E. W. Crooks came to him about October 1 and represented that his uncle, W. A. Cooper, dated January 4, 1855, the signatures, by the bank on Saturday, and different from that on the draft. He erroticed by the bank on Saturday, and strictly man, worth over $3,000,000, had anthorized him to look up about 1,000 acres of land near Santa Barbara, as he wished to purchase it and lay out a town in it and he wished to know what witness would take for his ranch. To which he replied, he would take $50,000, and all the doctor received above that should be his. The doctor agreed to this and left, would take for his ranch. To which he replied, he would take $50,000, and all the doctor received above that should be his. The doctor agreed to this and left, stating he would telegraph to his uncle. Upon his producing a telegram from his uncle, reading: "We rely entirely upon your judgment. Buy if satisfactory at sixty-live," had some conversation with him. The doctor agreed to purchase the property for his uncle, he to receive the $15,000, being the amount above the witness' price for his ranch. Witness there requested the payment of some money, and Judge Hali was requested to draw up a receipt for same, who objected to the doctor making so large a purchase upon a single telegram. The doctor then wrote a telegram to W. A. Cooper, at Parkersburg, stating; "I have closed the purchase. In whose name shall the deed be made!" and reported next day to Mr. W. that he had sent the same. On October 9 he exhibited to Mr. W. an answer, reading as follows: "Very well. Let party deed to you as my agent."

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes:

"I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters are the purest and sixty-live; as the purchase the property for his uncle, he to receive the $15,000, being the amount above the with lood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in docs a better the same. On October 9 he exhibited to Mr. W. that he had seen the same. On October 9 he exhibited to Mr. W. an answer, reading as follows: "Very well. Let party deed to you as my agent."

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes:

"I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters ato my customers, they can have he had been property for his uncle and the purchase. In whose name shall the deed be made!" and reported next day to Mr. W. that he had been his family physician for about five years, and relying upon the truth of the general property in the blood and regy to the whole is the doctor in the doctor; that he had been his family physician for about five years, and relyin

Cooper upon the Camden Consolidated Oil Company, and by it accepted, to substitute for the processor process in payment of the land. And by it accepted, to substitute for the mortgage notes in payment of the land. And again relying upon the representations of their genuineness, he had two of these drafts discounted by the First National Bank of Santa Barbara, depositing the mortgage notes as collateral security, and paid Dr. Crooks $15,000, in a draft upon the Bank of California in San Francisco, and produced the paid check he had drawn to purchase the draft.
